Intown Builders Group, Inc. is a custom home builder in Villa Rica, Georgia, serving the Atlanta and Buckhead areas—the company custom-built million-dollar homes, renovations, and new construction basements. With Intown Builders Group, you can feel confident in our commitment to providing you with continual communication and immediate responses. Your home-building experience should be stress-free and exciting. As a second-generation custom home builder, Tony Reaves, founder of Intown Builders Group, has earned a strong reputation for quality craft and conducting business with integrity, honesty, and fairness. Tony believes that attention to minor details, the appreciation of quality materials, and the knowledge of how all components are integrated create a well-built home.
