Industrial Equipment Recovery (IER), A Wolf Industries, LP. is an electrical supply company headquartered in Humble, Texas. IER is a national OEM company supplying Siemens panelboards and switchboards, as well as a wide variety of custom electrical equipment. Also, IER offers a full line of obsolete and tested/certified electrical components from all of the major brands. IER provides custom built equipment and controls to companies of many shapes and sizes. Industrial Equipment Recovery utilizes the most advanced CNC fabrication equipment available to produce your equipment in-house. Using high precision CNC equipment and controlling the manufacturing process in-house gives IER the flexibility to accomplish any design as well as the ability to meet your delivery schedule because it manages the entire process.
