Yovza is an affordable multi-sided subscription-based organized construction marketplace bringing all the critical project stakeholders under a single platform, helping them manage their day-to-day workflow saving up to 70 % of their time and cost. The firm helps build the world's most significant structures by creating more innovative solutions for managing construction workflows. Its founder, a construction engineer, has been handling construction projects worth millions of dollars for over a decade. Seeing his Industry going through a lot of hustle, costing both time & money and, most importantly, destroying the planet, he decided to quit his corporate job to join forces with socially conscious businesses within the region to improve the standards of his Industry. Since its formation in 2017, Yovza has helped more than 500 companies digitize their approval workflow from the UAE alone. Yovza has helped contractors digitize their operational workflows to save 70% of their time & efforts presently involved. Yovza has an experienced tech team that will do its best to ensure the protection of your data and its integrity.
